Course Description

Study of the historical chronology of Western music.

Prerequisite

ENG 085

Course Goals

At the completion of this course the student should be able to listen to music with more comprehension of musical form, style, and other basic musical concepts, in particular, the development of music in Western Civilization.

Learning Objectives

Students will gain general knowledge of music through weekly readings from the intermediate reading level textbook and listening activities. A higher level of comprehension and appreciation will be achieved by working with the “Listening Guides” in the textbook supported by the online modules “Materials of Music Interactive”, “iMusic” and/or “Listening Links” found in JetNet.

Students will connect via forum posts to their classmates in regards to:

- Music and emotion
- Music as an art form
- Music in culture
- The importance of the performing and visual arts in culture
- The effects of literature on the arts

The course goals and objectives incorporate specific Associate Degree Outcomes (ADOs) established by the Jackson College Board of Trustees, administration, and faculty. These goals are in concert with four-year colleges, universities, and reflect input from the professional communities we serve. ADOs guarantee students achieve goals necessary for graduation credit, transferability, and professional skills needed in many certification programs. The ADOs and course objectives addressed in this class include the following:

ADO 6
Meaning/Understanding	Develops a musical understanding and vocabulary, capable of identifying and knowing musical compositions, acquiring knowledge of basic historic data.
Analysis and Interpretation	Understands how to recognize and understand musical periods. Uses discipline-specific language.
Engagement	Engages in prompted discussions of the creative contexts within which composers work.
Evaluation	Identifies the aesthetic standards used to make critical judgments about music.
Appreciation	Approaches musical compositions with a combination of resistance and openness, disinterest and interest expressed in discussion or writing.

ADO 10
Knowledge of and regard for groups with which one identifies	Lists kinds of music with which one identifies (gender, race, creed, ethnicity, class, sexual orientation, age, ability).
Knowledge of and regard for individuals from groups other than one's own	Articulates similarities to and differences from one's own preferred music Defines musical stereotypes.
Understanding of and regard for diversity	Defines ethnocentrism, oppression and dominant group privilege through investigation of jazz music
Interaction with individuals from groups other than one's own	Learns from and about music from non-American cultures

Textbook & Additional Resources

The textbook and “Total Access”, an online resource designed by the textbook publisher, are required for this online class.

Textbook:

The Enjoyment of Music, twelfth edition, shorter version by Kristine Forney & Joseph Machlis.

Academic Honesty Policy

Plagiarism or cheating will not be tolerated and an immediate “Failure” will be given for an assignment, and in extreme circumstances, the class. The current JC academic policy can be viewed here:

<http://www.jccmi.edu/policies/Academics/Policies/1004.pdf>

Course Management

- A course calendar will be provided in JetNet. Test and report due dates are subject to change at the instructors discretion. If you are unable to upload an assignment to JetNet, send it via an email, as an attachment.

Term dates applicable to withdraw or audit may be found at:

<https://www.jccmi.edu/registration-records/canceled-classes-drops-and-withdrawals/>

The JC grading system, as well as, specifics regarding other grades such as incomplete, withdraw or audit may be found at:

<https://www.jccmi.edu/registration-records/grading-system/>

Makeup Policy

Late work may be considered at the discretion of the instructor with an automatic deduction of eight (8) points. Exceptions will be made based upon a valid absence. Documentation, such as a doctor’s note or forwarded email from the JC Solution Center, will ensure that points are not deducted.

Instructor Availability

The instructor is only available by email, text or by a scheduled appointment - JetNet messaging should not be used. The instructor allows a 2-24 hour response time for all email, voicemail and text messages. . If you have not received a reply within this time, resend the message. Telephone calls will accepted as the instructor is available.

Student Responsibilities

- Students should allot a minimum of four to five hours of time per week for this class. A face-to-face class typically meets for three hours per week for classroom instruction time with additional time expected for report and test preparation. Our classroom has the same time standards.
- Ensure that you are able to access your JC assigned email and validate that your correct contact phone number is on file.
- We are members of a scholarly institution, therefore, refrain from using profanity in your written work or during any interactions with the instructor or other students.
- Reasonable best effort is expected at all times.
- All members of the class must be considerate and respectful of each other, especially in the forum.
- Wiki's, such a Wikipedia, may not contain credible, research worthy information. Listing a wiki as the only cited source in your work is not acceptable and points will be deducted from the assignment grade.
- Work is expected on the due date and time as specified by the instructor. If you are unable to upload an assignment to JetNet, send it via an email as an attachment.

Attendance Policy

The weekly forum assignment is the primary indicator for tracking class attendance. The completion of diagnostic quizzes and reports submissions will also be considered regarding weekly participation.

Special Circumstances

Classes are held in accordance to the term calendar found at:

<https://www.jccmi.edu/academics/academic-calendar/>

Possible cancellations may occur due to inclement weather or instructor illness. In the event of inclement weather, closing will be announced on local television and radio stations and on the home page of the college (<https://www.jccmi.edu>). Time submission allowances based on central campus closings will be made accordingly for the online class.
