Implicit in this goal are efforts to prepare students to: (a) live and work in the 21st century, (b) be employed in situations which will require retraining several times during a productive life, and (c) function in a rapidly changing international society.

In support of these guidelines, ENG 085 students will develop critical thinking skills, including the ability to do the following:

1. Generate questions about texts before and while reading.
 2. Distinguish between fact and opinion.
 3. Recognize bias in a piece of writing.
 4. Incorporate new knowledge with old.

The Other Wes Moore Question and Response Guide pages will be assigned throughout the reading of the novel.

Unless otherwise noted by the instructor, The Other Wes Moore questions and answers should be typed, single or 1.5 spaced, in font size 12, in acceptable academic font such as Times New Roman or Arial.

In the upper left corner of your typed document, as with all documents, be sure to include your name, date, class and section, title of the book and indicate the page numbers that correspond with the questions.

Vocabulary & Word Part Study

Vocabulary and Word Part assignments will count as 20% of your final grade.

A thematic reading project will be required that synthesizes information from several reading sources about a single topic. This project will call for you to analyze, evaluate and summarize material related to the chosen topic. An oral presentation, with a visual aid, will be required. Presentations will count as 20% of your final grade.

Late Assignments:

In the event of an absence, NO in-class assignments/activities can be made up.

Students must be present at the time tests/quizzes are distributed.

If students arrive after tests/quizzes have been handed out, they are still welcome to take the tests/quizzes at a 50% reduction. If the student arrives to class after tests/quizzes have been collected, they will need to make arrangements for testing outside of class at a 50% reduction.

Note: Students should assume all tests/quizzes would be distributed at the very beginning of class.

Late homework assignments will only be accepted on the next day of class and will be reduced by 50%.

Withdrawal:

If you stop attending this course, it is your responsibility to complete the paper work for a "Withdrawal." Be sure to check with financial aid before withdrawing. If you quit attending class, please don't assume it will be understood you have withdrawn or quit. However, without a formal withdrawal, a grade will be given at the conclusion of the course, with or without your attendance. Please keep in mind that a "W" is the same as a 0.0 and may affect your financial aid, loans and / or scholarship(s).

Incomplete: If an "Incomplete" is needed, the request must be in writing. Keep in mind that "Incompletes" are reserved for work that is "sufficient in quality but not sufficient in quantity."

Academic Honesty Policy:

The JCC catalog states, "Academic honesty expected of all students. It is the ethical behavior that includes producing their own work and not representing others' work as their own, either by plagiarism, or by cheating, or by helping others do so... Faculty members who suspect a student of academic dishonesty may penalize the student by taking appropriate action to and including assigning a failing grade for the paper, project, report, exam or the course itself. Instructors should document instances of academic dishonesty in writing to the Academic Dean."

Assessing Your Reading Skill Progress:

Students' application of reading strategies will also be assessed at the beginning and end of the semester using a specified text. Some of your personal goals should be to read a lot and work hard in order to improve your vocabulary and comprehension test scores and improve your application of reading strategies.
