Course Description:

This class discusses regions of the world from a human perspective. This includes population, culture, commerce, agriculture, language, and transportation. There is an emphasis on class participation and discussion. Different teaching methods will be used to help all learning styles. This is an important class on basic geographic concepts and should transfer well as a social studies class to most schools.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 085* and ENG 090*

Course Goals and Objectives:

This class should teach students to better understand the regions of the world, the people who live there and how they interact and shape the physical world around them. Students after completing this course should understand settlement patterns, environmental issues, global trade, how technology and GIS play a role in our lives, and what the future will be like for people on earth.

Textbook: Globalization and Diversity: Geography of a Changing World (5th Edition Rowndtree)
